

City of Geneva BUSINESS RESOURCE GUIDE

Compiled by the Economic Development Department, City of Geneva

May 2013

Welcome to the City of Geneva!

Welcome! We are glad you are considering Geneva as a business location. The City's Economic Development Department has compiled this document to assist you as you open, or relocate, your business within Geneva.

Geneva's character is found in our historic architecture and adaptive re-use of historic buildings, dedication to landscaping, and abundant open space. Geneva has over 700 acres of open space found in 50 separate parks owned by the Geneva Park District, plus the 580 acre City-owned Prairie Green Preserve, 497 acres of Kane County Forest Preserves, and two golf courses.

Geneva truly retains a small town sense of community. Geneva citizens are actively involved in decision-making through a range of City commissions and civic groups. Our healthy business climate is augmented and maintained through initiatives between the Geneva Chamber of Commerce, Cultural Arts Commission, the Strategic Planning Advisory Committee, the Geneva Economic Development Commission, and business marketing consortiums. We encourage you to get involved with these groups who are working to build and strengthen Geneva.

With festivals and events every month, downtown Geneva is a place to connect with others. Home to excellent schools, library, and parks, we're a great place to raise children – and a town people are proud to say they live in. We offer a variety of business locations with retail, industrial, office, and development opportunities. Stop in. Talk with our business owners who have already decided that Geneva is the "Right Place" for their business operation. We hope you'll join us.

Marketing Geneva. The EDD also maintains the visitor-oriented www.genevadowntown.org. This site includes a business directory and a list of events and tourist-oriented activities. You can submit events for the calendar. The "Info for Merchants" link at the bottom of the page also offers valuable information.

Get Listed in the City Employer Database. The EDD maintains a Geneva employer database used to post an online Geneva Business Directory, communicate with businesses about upcoming promotions and events; inform businesses about city construction and planning projects; print the downtown business directories (map tables and kiosks); and refer potential customers. Registration forms for the employer database can be picked up from the EDD, when you complete an application for City utilities, or when obtaining a building permit and/or Change of Tenant permit.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT (CDD) SERVICES

Zoning, Subdivisions, and Planned Unit Developments

The Community Development Department is comprised of the Planning Division and the Building and Zoning Division. When considering a location in the City of Geneva, it is important to verify the zoning district classification of the property prior to signing a lease and then check to see if your business use is allowed. Determine if the business use is “permitted by right,” or, if your business use is allowed as a “special use.”

A “Special Use” permit is required when a particular use has potential to impact a neighboring property owner’s use and enjoyment of their own property. These permits require Plan Commission review as part of a public hearing process, and City Council approval. In other locations, where a “Planned Unit Development” (PUD) has been approved, you may need City staff assistance in determining zoning, allowable uses, and sign regulations for the particular PUD. To verify zoning regulations, or to discuss amendments to either the zoning map or the zoning ordinance text, please contact the Planning Division at (630) 232-0818.

The City zoning code is found online at www.geneva.il.us. Each zoning class contains a list of land uses which are permitted, and those for which a “special use permit” is required. The latter is required when a particular use has potential to impact a neighboring property owner’s use of their own property; special use permits require Plan Commission review.

Historic Preservation

Exterior improvements (including signs) to buildings within the Historic District must first be reviewed and approved by the Historic Preservation Commission before the permit may be issued. This includes properties located within the downtown historic district or individual landmarks. The City’s Design Guidelines for Historic Properties located on the City’s website may help you in your project design and planning.

If you own a historic property, the City’s Preservation Planner may be able to help you with an application to the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency for state or federal income tax credits for property rehabilitation. Costs must exceed the adjusted basis of the building and comply with the Secretary of the Interior’s Standards for Rehabilitation. For more information contact the Preservation Planner at (630) 938-4541.

Site Plan

Site plan review of all proposed non-residential development is required. The City Planner coordinates the site plan review process. The Plan Commission reviews plans and formulates a recommendation that is forwarded to the City Council for action. City Council approval of the site plan is required before building permits can be issued. For proposed commercial developments downtown, the required number of off-street parking spaces is typically less than in other areas of the City. When a proposed development involves a requested waiver of parking requirements, such requests are reviewed by City Staff and the City Council for approval. The City Planner can assist you with review procedures and application requirements for your proposed development. Call (630) 232-0814 for more information.

Building Permit Pre-Application Design Review or Pre-Permit Application Conference (Existing Buildings)

Not all existing buildings meet current life safety and fire codes. Representatives from the Fire Department and Building & Zoning Division will, upon request, conduct an on-site review of your building for the purpose of identifying any code deficiencies that will need to be addressed as part of the contemplated project and to clarify code requirements for your planned project. You may request an on-site review as you consider purchasing a building, signing a lease, or undertaking an improvement to property you already own. Additionally, you may ask for a Pre-Permit Application Conference which gives the business owner an opportunity to ask questions and clarify city code requirements for the project. The City’s adopted building codes are found online at www.geneva.il.us. A link to all Geneva codes and local amendments is found on the city website in the Community Development section.

ADOPTED BUILDING AND SAFETY CODES

City staff reviews the applications, blue prints and plats of survey to ensure compliance with local, state, and national standards as recognized by:

International Residential Code, 2006
International Building Code, 2009
International Energy Code, 2012
International Property Maintenance Code, 2006
International Mechanical Code, 2006
State of Illinois Plumbing Code, Most Recent Edition
State of Illinois Accessibility Code, Most Recent Edition
National Electrical Code, 2005
Life Safety Code, 2003
International Fire Code, 2003

Building Permit Pre-Application Meeting (Plan Submittals for New construction)

If you are applying for a building permit for new commercial construction, the City suggests a planning meeting with City staff. Plans submitted for permit with major deficiencies will slow review time and could increase costs. Technical staff from the City's Building, Electric and Engineering Divisions, and the Fire Department attend the Pre-Application Meetings. The focus at the Pre-Application meeting is on initial construction drawings you have prepared, and whether or not the overall approach to the project is code compliant. Construction drawings are required for Pre-Application Meetings. For more information, contact the Building & Zoning Division at (630) 262-0280.

Building Permits /Certificate of Occupancy

Before beginning any work on a building, contact the Building and Zoning Division at (630) 262-0280. A permit is required for most projects, including any construction or alteration, as well as many types of repairs. You must contact both the Building and Zoning Division and Fire Department to schedule all required inspections. After your project has passed final inspection, you will receive a "Certificate of Occupancy." When opening a business in a space that needs minimal changes, you will apply to the Building & Zoning Division for a "Change in Tenant" permit; this entails a health safety final inspection.

Change of Tenant /Certificate of Occupancy

Before any business can occupy a property, or open for business in Geneva, either a "Certificate of Occupancy" (provided after final inspections conducted to close out a building permit) or a "Change of Tenant" permit must be obtained from the Building & Zoning Division. The latter is for a business moving into a space with only minimal changes. Along with the permit application, the applicant will need to provide a basic floor plan showing the layout of furnishings, racking, fixturing, exits, exit signs, emergency lights and other safety features. Also, a brief written description of the nature of the business to be conducted is needed to enable the Building & Zoning Division to determine if the use is permitted at the proposed location.

Once review of the application for a Change of Tenant is completed you will pick up and pay for the permit. When you have completed the requirements stipulated in the permit, call for inspections by both the Fire Department and Building & Zoning Division so a "Certificate of Occupancy" can be issued.

The above procedure is for a simple "move-in" where no changes are being made to the space. If walls are being built, removed or relocated; or electrical, mechanical or plumbing work is being performed, additional plans and specifications –and a full building permit–will be required. Dependant on the type or amount of work being performed, a licensed architect may be needed. Be sure to contact the Building and Fire Departments for final inspections.

Plumbing Inspections

The City of Geneva now requires inspections of plumbing work. For more information please contact the Building & Zoning Division at (630) 262-0280, or view online at www.geneva.il.us.

Signs

Permits are required for permanent, temporary, and A frame signs. Permits are issued by the Building & Zoning Division. For more information please contact the Building & Zoning Division at (630) 262-0280, or view online at www.geneva.il.us.

Tree Protection

The City of Geneva has been named a Tree City USA by the National Arbor Day Foundation in cooperation with the USDA Forest Service and the National Association of State Foresters. A Tree Preservation Review Application is required to be submitted for construction projects on a property that contains one or more trees over ten inches in diameter. Preservation plans are required for trees located both in the public right-of-way and on private property. Contact the Building & Zoning Division at (630) 262-0280 to clarify tree preservation requirements. Tree maintenance and watering information is available through the City of Geneva Street and Fleet Division at (630) 232-1501.

Wetland Bank

The City has established a wetland mitigation bank at Prairie Green Preserve. Contact the Community Development Director at (630) 232-0818 for info on wetland mitigation credit sales.

PUBLIC WORKS AND UTILITY SERVICES

Water - Sewer - Electric - Utility Bills

Utility Billing is a part of the City Finance Department. To order or change an existing water, sewer, or electric service billing record, or to confirm a new service billing, call (630) 232-0854.

City Engineering Division

Individuals constructing and/or expanding a parking area should contact the City Engineering Division at (630) 232-1501. The engineering office provides information about site development activities, the subdivision process, utility location and connections, storm water management, and floodplain locations.

City Street Division

The Street Division is responsible for most improvements within the public right-of-way which includes the sidewalks, curbs, streets, signs, and trees. Any questions or concerns about any of these items should be directed to the Streets Division of the Public Works Department. The number is (630) 232-1501.

City Sewer Division

The Sewer Division is responsible for sanitary and storm sewer collection systems. If either system fails to drain properly, please contact the City as soon as possible. During normal business hours call Public Works at (630) 232-1501; evenings and weekends calls should be directed to the Police Department at (630) 232-4736.

Stormwater Management

The City has adopted the Kane County Stormwater Ordinance. The ordinance outlines development requirements pertaining to stormwater runoff and detention; flood plain and wetland management; and erosion and sediment control. The City has also adopted amendments to the Kane County ordinance which can be found in Title 13 of the Geneva City Code. The Kane County Stormwater Ordinance can be found on their website, www.countyofkane.org. For more information, contact the City Engineer at (630) 232-1501.

City Water Supply Division

The City has groundwater protection and outdoor water use codes in place to encourage environmental protection of this natural resource and to provide water use to meet commercial, residential and fire fighting needs. In 2008 the City began operation of its new reverse osmosis water treatment facility. Water softeners are no longer needed in Geneva. In both 2009 and 2010 the City water was named the best tasting water in Kane County. For more information regarding water, contact the Water Division of Public Works at (630) 232-1501.

City Wastewater Treatment Services Division

City wastewater treatment is achieved at the facility. Manufacturing, industrial, or any business process that discharges to the City's sanitary sewer system may require a permit. For additional information, contact the Water Division of Public Works at (630) 232-1501, or the Wastewater Treatment Facility at (630) 232-4060.

Hazardous Material

All businesses using hazardous materials should contact the Public Works Division about participation in the industrial pre-treatment program at (630) 232-1501.

Geneva Municipal Electric Utility

To maintain the City's low rates, property owners are responsible for the installation costs of the system during new construction or upgrades, including electric distribution system and service to the building. The electric utility is able to provide a rough cost estimate within a week of receiving a sketch (or a site plan) showing exact site location and where transformer(s) would be located. Buildings are connected to the system with an underground feed. Transformer lead times can vary from "in-stock" to between 8 and 30 weeks, depending on unit availability (in stock or via special order). You will hire your own contractor to install the conduit, transformer vault, switches, wire, etc; and can therefore dictate most of the construction schedule. Allow about three weeks after your contractor has completed their work for the City to complete its work of energizing the project.

There is an additional cost involved for a connection fee upon annexation, based on connected load and dependent on the size of the service. This is usually covered in the annexation agreement. Contact the Electric Division at (630) 232-1503 for information.

PUBLIC SAFETY SERVICES & EMERGENCY CONTACTS

Fire Department

From the concept plan to the first occupancy permit, the Fire Department will work with owners, developers, architects, and builders to assure the plans meet all safety standards and keep projects on track. If you are planning to expand your existing business or relocate into an existing building in Geneva, the Geneva Fire Department will be happy to sit down with you to go over your plans or meet with you on site to look at existing conditions and let you know up front what safety requirements apply to your project. The Fire Department partners with you to help you maintain and protect your investment here in Geneva.
